Siedlce, 24 March 2014

Dear All,

In 9th- 10th October 2014

we are pleased to invite you to the international scientific seminar:

Poland- Russia.

Neighbour relations: the current affairs and the prospects,

which will take place in the Humanities Faculty of Siedlce University of Natural Sciences and Humanities

Honorary Patronage of our seminar was taken by Professor Stanisław Koziej, PhD
Head of the National Security Bureau

The dynamics of change in contemporary international relations in the national, regional and global dimensions, significantly determines the current and future form of the relations between The Republic of Poland and The Russian Federation. The state of the Polish- Russian relations has fundamental meaning not only from the point of view of both countries, but also in a broader perspective, is in the interest of Europe and the whole world.

Mutual relations are encumbered with many, difficult historical experiences, but at the same time there are areas of constructive dialogue and cooperation, despite the contentious issues.

Accordingly, there is no doubt of the role of scientific discourse in this regard. It is expected to result in measurable recommendations for the authorities of both countries and aim at taking constructive actions for further building of neighbourly relations in different dimensions and contexts.

The seminar devoted to the subject issue will be a good opportunity to exchange ideas, opinions and present different scientific research results.

The Social Sciences and Security Institute together with IKRiBL, meeting the needs above, is pleased to invite to the seminar in the following scientific issues:

- Russia in Polish foreign affairs and security policy,
- Poland in Russian foreign affairs and security policy,
- Kaliningrad Oblast in Polish- Russian relations,
- Polish- Russian economic, cultural, scientific- technical cooperation,
- difficult matters in the Polish- Russian relations and the solutions prospects,
- myths and stereotypes in the mutual Polish- Russian relations,
- the role of the European Union in the Polish- Russian relations,
- other proposals presented by the authors.

The results of the seminar:

The result of the seminar will be the reviewed scientific publication containing the articles of the participants. The organizers reserve the right to select the texts submitted.
